

Zawgyi Myanmar Unicode - new for Jan 2008

Posted by zawgyi - 2008/01/09 12:27

New files have been released for Zawgyi-One Myanmar Unicode System.

Zawgyi-One 20071230

With the new year, comes a new release of Zawgyi font. In this version, a new sub-script of Myanmar character Bha "á€" has been added. This is a must-have release. Otherwise, your old Zawgyi-One font will display a square box whenever it encounters the new glyph. Click here to download the newest Zawgyi-One font - 20071230 (modified on 30th Dec, 2007).

Zawgyi Myanmar Unicode Keyboard L

There's also a new release of the Zawgyi keyboard driver. This one has been generated on a Vista OS, so it works on Vista. There've been reports that XP also works after a restart. This release includes a dramatic change. As usual, we haven't yet written detailed documentation, yet but the accompanying keyboard layout map is pretty much self-explanatory. We switched to calling the dead-key "Zawgyi Key". Click here to download the latest release "L" of Zawgyi Myanmar Unicode Keyboard.

Zawgyi Keyboard Source

This is the Zawgyi Keyboard source file in KLC format, for those curious, or for developers. Most notable changes are placement-related. We switched the keys around, so that pressing E will give you á€", then pressing Zawgyi key + E will give you á€•á•. (the subscript version of á€"). Click here to download the KLC file for "L" version of Zawgyi keyboard.

New Arial-Zawgyi Hack

This latest hack includes the latest glyphs from the 2007-12-30 Zawgyi version. Click here to download the latest Arial-Zawgyi font.

Dear Zawgyi group,

Thank you very much for your great effort.
I would like to suggest some improvement.

It is a bit difficult to navigate to download page for foreigners and for people who don't have installed zawgyi font in system yet.

I would like to suggest to put link to font download page in left navigation bar or big icon for font download on home page. The download page should organize and include all versions of fonts so that user can understand which is latest version.

If you feel comfortable, the home page should include "powered by Joomla" together with copyright notice.

Best wishes for the great shining future of Zawgyi group,

Regards,
Zaw
